

 GalapagosBioFocus
A Galapagos Company

Galapagos is a drug discovery company with pre-clinical programs in bone and joint diseases and bone metastasis. Our service division BioFocus offers a full suite of target-to-drug discovery products and services, ranging from target discovery and assay development to medicinal chemistry and predictive drug discovery. The company has established collaborations in drug discovery with most major pharma and biotech companies. Our research activities in five European countries and the US are successful thanks to our highly motivated staff of more than 500 employees, a unique technology base and a strong financial position.

For our site in Saffron Walden, near Cambridge we are looking for a

X-Ray Crystallographer

CRP-194

Description

As part of our structural biology team, you will play a pivotal role in this expanding business area. You will be working on protein/ligand structure determination using our in house X-ray diffraction platform for a wide variety of clients involved in fragment-based and structure-based drug discovery programs. As a member of an integrated project team you will liaise closely with our Assay Development and Medicinal Chemistry scientists.

You will hold a PhD in X-Ray Crystallography and have had significant industrial experience of X-ray crystallography.
